Five two friends of choice
In December
Dile the man of or
On the land near the window
There's a road that leads to Dark forest
Where white is in color
With sun rays
After circle and square
In July and August
A path beckons
To now and afterward
Look for the
Which may be lost touched
Or just seen standing
Look north at the ring
And dig
To achieve
By chance and inconspicuous
Determination
Your goal

The lion is thought to be a symbol for African immigration into America, and Sullivan's island is known as "the Ellis Island of Slavery" for its role as a busy quarantine station. I also think that it bears a resemblance to Fort Moultrie's outcrop.

Look closely at the wings of stray hair in the lion's mane. Can you see the latitude and longitude coordinates for Charleston?

Can you see the outline of Charleston's waterways in the mask's forehead?

I also saw a lowercase "H" here: Edgar Allan Poe was stationed at Fort Moultrie in his youth, where he arrived in Company of Artillery. His story "The Gold Bug" is set on Sullivan's island, and makes use of a mask as a treasure map.

This pear symbolizes a Civil War-era harbor mine, which were often pear-shaped. The USS Palmetto was sunk by one of these mines.

The bend in this cypress branch matches the curves in Highway 705, Colman Boulevard. I used an old road map (remember most? from 1987 as my guide).

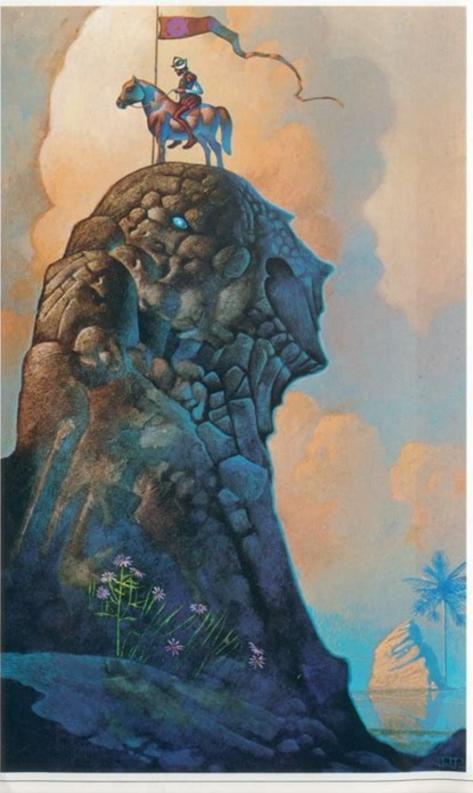

The cypress plant used as a landmark was located about 10 or 15 feet from the Palmetto monument, but it only remained standing for a few years after the book was published.

Look closely at the shape of the daisy, as well as the shadow at the base of the pear. Can you see the resemblance to South Carolina's "Palmetto Moon" state flag?

This pendant matches the unique shape of Fort Sumter, which is located in Charleston Harbor.

Two twenty two
You'll see an arc of lights
Weight and roots extended
Together saved the site
Of granite walls
Wind swept halls
Citadel in the night
A wingless bird ascended
Born of ancient dreams of flight
Beneath the only standing member
Of a forest
To the south
White stone closest
At twelve paces
From the west side
Get permission
To dig out.

Á Á The destruction of the St. Charles Hotel sparked an outcry and led to the creation of new groups and new laws intended to preserve the historic architecture of New Orleans.Á Á In setting up his puzzle in 1981, Preiss included an obscure quote about the majesty of the former hotel.Á Á Arrows along the edge of the clock face were meant to take searchers on either of two walking routes through the streets of the Central Business District from the Piazza d'Italia (constructed in 1978) to the parking lot where the hotel once stood.Á Á The design of image 7 linked the new architecture with the old, and the arrows of the walking route ended simply in the word "PRESERVATION."Á Á Sadly, this casque was probably lost when the Place St. Charles was constructed on the site of the former hotel in 1983.
